Gas Supply Is Expanded

Firm Pushes 10th Underground Storage

Plans for the development of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company's tenth underground storage area for natural gas, in Vinton County, were announced today by B. W. Cox, Salem manager for Ohic Fuel. The $2,700,000 project is scheduled to get underway this year.

The new area will be named the McArthur Underground Storage Area Lecated west of McArthur, it will be Ohio Fuel's sixth largest storage area, with a capacity of 101/2 billion cubic feet of gas. About 55 per cent of the gas used by customers on a near-zero day comes from underground storage. Cox explained.

Ohio Fuel also plans in 1957 to enlarge its Holmes underground storage field by drilling 10 new storage wells, and converting 51 former producing gas wells to storage there.

In addition, the gas company plans to further develop its other storage fields by drilling 25 additional storage wells, and by fracturing 60 existing storage wells. Fracturing cracks open the underground gas-bearing sand formations so gas may be put into and taken out of storage at a faster

This additional storage development will cost Ohio Fuel $720,000. Ninety per cent of the gas used by Ohio Fuel customers comes from outside Ohio, most of it from the Southwest, through long-distance pipelines.

Telephone Workers Warned To End Strike Or They May Be Replaced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (A)-Officials of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. said Wednesday night they have sent a letter to about 600 striking Communications Workers of America members in 24 Ohio counties, warning them they may be replaced unless they return to

A union representative called it "a propaganda letter."

No time limit was set for the strikers to return, but a company public relations man said if the workers "still indicate by a week from today they intend to continue the strike, the replacement program will begin."

The letter sums up the history of the negotiations that have taken place since the CWA went on strike after a one-year union-company contract expired July 15, 1956-181 days ago.

Signed by Frank A. Lennberg, director of industrial relations for Ohio Consolidated, the letter says that, because the union has rejected the company's "final offer," further bargaining sessions

"It contains innuendos but no facts," Thernes said. "If it contained facts, it would have said 'we do not want the strikers back.' It doesn't say that, however, and it's apparent they do want the strikers back."

He said a survey of worker strikers last weekend indicated they are "100 per cent in favor of continuing the strike if the company doesn't come up with a better offer." Their feeling, Thernes said, is "we've waited this long, we can wait longer."

Another bargaining session between Ohio Consolidated and CWA representatives is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 17, at the Seneca Hotel here.

Trusting The Arabs

When two-bit statesmen and pettifoggers have run out of wind, there will be a chance to discuss the serious implications of the Eisenhower administration's proposal for authorization to resist Communist armed aggression in the Middle East.

One of the two most serious implications is that all other armed aggression, such as the kind unleashed on Egypt by Britain, France and Israel, would continue to be the concern of the United Nations. The United States is setting its military might only against Russia's might.

The other is that the Eisenhower administration is not asking for advance authorization to resist Communism as such in the Middle East but only to resist armed aggression by

If Communists conquered the Middle East piecemeal by subversion, never using military means, there would be no showdown with the United States. The Eisenhower policy is not anti-Communist but anti-war.

Does this mean the Middle East is wide open for Communist subversion?

The answer suggests still another implication that might interest bargain-basement states men if they quit popping off long enough to think about it.

The Kremlin can neither make nor hold converts without force. Its ideology has been discredited so completely it might as well be trying to sell the theory that the world is flat. The United States is proclaiming to the Arab world that it seeks to protect them only from military force; that it trusts them to protect themselves from Communism, an ideology that gave Hungarians nothing but the courage of

World Riot Squad

With the first steps to clear the Suez Canal in progress, the United Nations now will leave the center of the stage.

But nothing has been done about the most important move that was expected to follow U.N. action to set up a police patrol in the

The United Nations Emergency Force that came into existence to replace the British when they were pulled out of the Suez area was to be the forerunner of a permanent U.N. "police force."

There was an overwhelming opinion a month ago that the United Nations never could have anything more than tentative authority in even minor squabbles until equipped with its own world riot squad, ready for duty anywhere on earth on a few hours' notice.

In theory, this U.N. force could be dispatched to a troubled area on the same basis as a police riot squad can be dispatched to a scene of trouble, to keep things in hand while negotiations are in progress. It would not be an army in its own right, but its mobility would give it great strength.

A permanent U.N. force was contemplated in the U.N. charter, but nothing was done about it. Canada is its principal backer.

A Canadian resolution to seek a basis of agreement on what could be done about it in 1957, with an emergency U.N. force in existence, would stir sympathetic interest. For the first time, the United Nations already has a police force, performing a policy duty. Why not keep it in existence?

Brink Of Discovery

The Alsop brothers, who did door-to-door reporting during the 1956 presidential campaign, have admitted in Saturday Evening Post they were puzzled because everybody intended to vote-yet only 60 per cent did.

In Washington, congressmen are expecting to stage a full-dress investigation of why more people do not vote in the United States-and they are on the brink of discovery.

The Alsop brothers may have gone over the brink without knowing it.

This may be the votingest country of all time, in terms of participation by the kind of people who should and can vote; i.e., the typical citizens of the United States.

It is true that only 60 per cent of Americans of voting age showed up last Nov. 6 but it must be remembered that southern Negroes are discouraged from voting, many state laws discourage residents who have moved recently from voting, about five million persons will be ill on any given voting day and ballots are denied to prisoners, inmates of insane hopsitals, residents of the District of Columbia, non-citizens and to people who cannot ass literacy tests in states that require them. There also are a few dozen miscellaneous reasons why U.S. citizens cannot vote, not least istration laws. A conscientious study would reveal a high rate of responsibility among U.S. citizens toward voting, which would destroy once and for all the myth that voters are so indifferent to the opportunity to show up at the polls to save civilization that they must be whipped into line by alert politicians.

IN A WORD, he has two hurdles to leap over: in the Security Council, he must satisfy both Soviet Russia and the Western Powers; in the General Assembly he must satisfy nearly everybody.

There are now 80 nations in the United Nations and they are divided into groups that often vote as blocs: the Soviet countries with rare exceptions vote as though one man were casting the vote for all of them; the Afro - Asian group votes in a bloc; the NATO powers have usually voted the same way and so it has gone.

A secretary - general has to be fairly milk - and - waterish to satisfy all these contending factors; a strong man would have cultivated dislike by some group; a really controversial person could not

THE DIFFICULTY is that the secretary - general has considerable to do and under the charter of the United Nations he could become a tremendous influence in the affairs of the world. This is a natural development as most of the member states are socialistic and the American Government delegates are more concerned with preserving the ILO than with the ideological concepts of its resolutions.

The charter of the United Nations was supposed to be reviewed and possibly revised and amended in 1956. The year has passed and nothing has happened because there could not be agreement between the Soviet bloc and the Western bloc as to what should be done. Heating with atomic energy is relatively simple compared with obtaining atomic power, he explains. To provide steam power eratures and pressures--tne higher the better.

Mary materials also become highly radioactive after they have been inside the reactor. This makes repairs difficult, or even impossible.

"But," says Dr. Nelson, "many of these problems sink to insignificance if low pressures and temperatures below the boiling point of water can satisfy the designer. While not worth much for driving a turbine, this range of heat does nicely for space heating, as in the new atomic space heating system at the Hanford plant in Richland." "For 10 years engineers sorrowfully watched tremendous amounts of heat energy literally go down the drain. The reactors were built to produce plutonium. #### Break For Railroads

The evidence from the financial pages indicates that many rail firms could use the shot in the arm and the stability that might follow from such combinations.

For the lasst few years we have been hearing much about the way business is diversifying. Many firms have spread a big tent over dozens of more or less unrelated enterprises.

There are lots of reasons for the trend, but among the best are that it allows companies to divide their risks so that if one line slips another more successful activity may offset any loss and keep the firm humming.

Mona Resting

Mona Lisa, slugged by a museum visiting rock-tosser in the Louvre, is back in shape and reported none the worse for the encounter. This is no surprise to us, since Mona has been toughened up by many rough experiences. She was once kidnaped and several times slashed.

We would have given 10 to one on her in top form to have thrown the rock back. The rock heaver is believed to have flipped mentally, but we can't see why this is at all certain. We think an art museum visitor who doesn't like the Mona Lisa is apt to be less unbalanced than the one who goes into ecstasies over her. (Drop that brick, please!)

THIS CORNER deplores rock hurling at Mona, but can understand it. In a world where smiling is regarded as compulsory and nonstop, her smile is minor league. The rock may have been tossed through disappointment. The ear-to-ear smile has become standard and it puzzles us that Mona Lisa's narrow - gauge, small-calibre, nonpressurized smile has managed to live up to its press notices so long.

The lady's built-in quick-detachable grin owes its fame to the description "Enigmatic." People for generations have speculated on its meaning and cause. To us, as we studied it intently, it has always seemed that she was pretty well fed up on somebody's old story and was clearly so indicating. She seemed to be saying, "Not that one again, please!" or perhaps, "Really you don't amuse me even when you wear a funny

We have seen the same smile often on the face of a wife listening at dinner to her husband's story of his afternoon golf game, hole by hole. And the missus wears a similar expression when on a cold morning she says. "It's your turn to put out the cat."

THE TOURIST WHO threw the rock at Mona may have, at one time, been a vaudeville performer and known the killing influence of a Mona Lisa smile. One look at the famed portrait may have brought a rush of blood to his head and the memory of a million such deadpan facial expressions from hundreds of audiences.

But how did he happen to have a rock with him? They are not usually carried in art galleries except in galleries featuring futuristic paintings: a screw driver, a triangle, a coil of haywire and an omelette entitled "The Brook" ... a doorknob, two beer cans, a putty knife and a cluster of pizza pies labeled "Birth of Spring,"

We understand that rock hurling is common at such exhibits. But the Mona Lisa has never had to wear a catcher's mask up to now. It's an aggressive age. The lady had better watch that smile.

Visitors to New York who knew Washington Market, since 1814 one of the quaintest markets on earth were one could find anything from hotdog and oyster stew, to a whole black bear, a deer, a vintage wine, an intact swordfish or a slice of buffalo meat, will be sad to hear that it is now no more, and will soon be auctioned off and probably used as a parking lot. This was really the father of all supermarkets ... It held scores of markets, lunch counters, oyster bars, etc., under one roof, and prices were the lowest...It has been a landmark for generations and was always one of the wonder spots of the metropolis. Burlesque, revived in New York, after more than a decade flopped after a few nights, as seemed certain to this corner. . . # O'Neill To Sign Cabinet Pay Boost Bill On Monday

Assembly Sets Up Committees

Legislators Recess, Await Inauguration

COLUMBUS, Ohio (A)-The Ohio Legislature started a long weekend of rest today to get ready for Monday's inauguration of state officials and Tuesday's start on introduction of proposed laws.

The lawmakers probably set a record earlier this week when they jammed a bill through both houses only 24 hours after the 102nd General Assembly convened.

That act will be ready for C. William O'Neill to sign into law soon after he takes the oath as governor at noon Monday. It raises the salaries of all state department heads who will form his Cabinet. He will make his formal appointments after he signs the act. That will make his appointees eligible for the new salaries.

O'Neill asked for the law. He said he needed it to help him draft qualified key officials. Although interim Gov. John W. Brown had said he would sign the bill if it came to his desk, leaders of the GOP-controlled Legislature decided to hold off delivery of the bill to the governor's office until O'Neill takes office.

Delivery could be made not earlier than mid-afternoon Monday Fisher, Wooster. because the bill has been signed in neither house yet.

Labor wants its people covered even if the effects of radiation are not felt for as long as 25 or 30 years.

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago--about its magnificent new luxury, for instance

... its brilliant new power and responsiveness ... its marvelous new handling ease . . . and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable! It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway. And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A curve in the road ahead? He simply follows it with the arc of his hands and the car responds with perfect obedience.

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toeever so gently-on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable. Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac? Well, the proof is in the driving-and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.
